HOLIDAY GREETINGS TO ALL

Season's Greetings and Happy Holidays from David Musyj, President and CEO and from Lynne Watts, Chairperson on behalf of the Board of Directors of Windsor Regional Hospital.

Also, the best of the Season from Richard Vennettilli, President on behalf of the Board of Directors of the Windsor Regional Hospital Foundation.

Happy 2017 to everyone!

A Community Came Together For Future Hospital

As a result of their generous time and support the Windsor Regional Hospital Foundation and Board of Directors express their deep appreciation to Eddie Francis and Michelle Prince for co-chairing and hosting a unique evening, an inaugural event at Caesars Windsor Augustus 27! Starry Night, held on November 26 provided guests with a special evening that saw $1 Million raised for the future of local healthcare in Windsor-Essex.

These Founders have evolved as a select group of community leaders that are setting the example for others to support the regenerating of our community's current acute care facilities to new state-of-the-art patient/centered facilities.

Our heartfelt thanks to the Galaxy Sponsors: Windsor Family Credit Union, The Francis Family, Rafih Auto Group, FA Investments, Snapd-Jeff Casey and Deletta Bello Casey, Tunnel Duty Free and the Taq Taq Family. The Solstice Sponsors: Caesars Windsor Cares, Komsa Family, McTague Law Firm LLP and The Stephanie and Barry Zekelman Foundation. Eclipse Sponsors: Aphria, Rose City Ford, United Brotherhood of Carpenters Local 494, CTV and AM 800 CKLW. Shooting Star Sponsors: Fanelli Group, KPMG, RBC Royal Bank, Roth & Mosey, David and Susan Sellick, Tepperman's and Pam and John Rodzik.

As Michelle Prince stated, "We have all visited a hospital, whether it was the day we were born, a child's broken arm or an unexpected diagnosis of cancer. The facilities matter! They matter because a child's birth should be the most joyous day, a broken arm should be quickly mended and the journey of cancer should be one that relies on the newest and most reliable research and technology".

Both Eddie Francis and Michelle Prince thank the Founding Members for their vision to see a new state-of-the-art hospital in the future for Windsor-Essex.

Creating the Vision for Education Research In Erie St. Clair

Leaders from the region's medical education and research community met to explore the future of healthcare education and research in Windsor-Essex.

At a visioning session hosted by the Programing and Services Steering Committee which oversees planning for the new Windsor-Essex Hospitals System, they mapped out the current state of research in the region and discussed ways they can use the opportunity created by the new hospitals system to build on these strengths.

"Today, everything is possible," said Windsor Regional Hospital President and CEO David Musyj at the opening of the session. "The way to achieve what our region desperately needs and deserves is to start planning now."

Musyj, who Co-Chairs the Steering Committee along with Dave Cooke says "we are not working from a clean slate". "We have a lot of progress in the region and the goal of these discussions is to build on the pockets of research we have in the community and look for opportunities to move forward together."

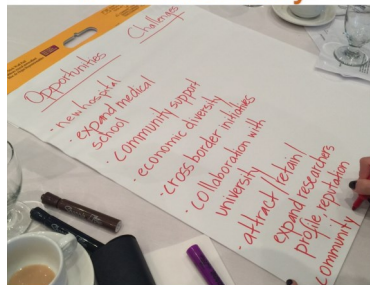

Participants included representatives from a variety of groups including the University of Windsor (Nursing, Biology, Social Work, HK, Leddy Library, the Cross Border Institute, EPICentre, etc.), Schulich School of Medicine & Dentistry, St. Clair College (Biomedical Engineering, School of Health Sciences), Windsor Regional Hospital, Hôtel-Dieu Grace Healthcare, WE-tech Alliance, the Windsor Cancer Research Group, the Essex County Medical Society, Wayne State University and more. The group discussed ways to break down silos and collaborate on projects now while working toward a more integrated research network in the new hospitals system.

"What I liked so much about this is that every institution that came together had the same vision. That this is the time to move forward with research in Windsor and I think that was so exiting," said Dr. Caroline Hamm, Co-Director, Windsor Cancer Research Group. "Lots of stuff has happened. All the pieces are there, we just have to put the pieces together."

From the beginning of this project, education and research have been among the main drivers. An expanded focus on clinical research strengthens the research and scholarship culture and puts Windsor-Essex in a better position to recruit and retain top physicians, professional healthcare staff and medical leaders.

This is the first of several sessions planned. The results will help shape the new Windsor-Essex Hospitals System during the next planning stages.

It's Christmas Time

Several donations are arriving daily for children in Paediatric Services. A very generous community from businesses to individuals are visiting and dropping off items that the Paediatric Child Life specialists can use to help children cope while in the hospital.
