Patient participation is an important part of the SOP project. Their stories and experiences help guide work done to improve the patient experience for others.

At a recent kickoff for the SOP Patient Flow program, Patient Sue Gosnell, whose mother was admitted as a patient after coming through the ED, shared her families unnerving experience as her mother was moved from room to room and across campuses. When she addressed the crowd, Gosnell pointed out that staff provided her mother with quality care, but there were problems with the processes. She is happy to be working with the team as they work toward providing a more seamless delivery of care for patients.

Ebola vaccine offers 100 percent protection, but the vaccine development team suggests it will require reinvented global leadership to better complete the task of licensing and delivering safe, effective, and durable Ebola vaccines to prevent outbreaks.

Collectibles Lucrative For WRH

Over the last six years, Ron Joinville of MCM Sports Collectibles has supported the Windsor Regional Hospital Foundation through his Sealed Bid Charity Auction program. You will see the framed auction prints in the lobbies at both campuses which are changed weekly as bids are received and top bidders notified that they've won the print.

Ron Joinville has donated approximately $22,000 to date as a result of the auction prints available for bidding. Prior to starting up MCM, Ron worked for the Coca Cola Bottling Company (Windsor) and for Elias Markets for many years. One to not stop, he developed the MCM Sports Collectibles - Sealed Bid Charity Auction as a way to stay active.

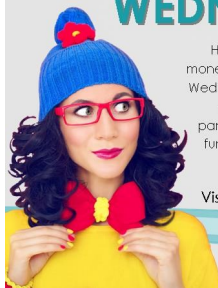

Ron stated, "I am a guy who needs to be busy and stay active along with something close to my heart, giving back to the community."

His collectible prints include sport figures and teams, music artists and entertainment celebrities. More recently, he added prints by famed artist, Robert Bateman and the Group of Seven. Part of his business is also custom framing and plaquing.

IMPORTANT REMINDERS

It is important to dial Ext. 3333 for all Emergency Codes. By dialing 3333 your call will be answered immediately. If you dial "0" for an Emergency Code, your call is placed into a que delaying the response.

Instead of calling the switchboard for an extension, you can reach the Nuance Voice Activated Calling System by dialing Ext. 56660 to be connected to staff and departments .

Cupcakes for Cupsakes!

The Windsor Regional Hospital Breast Health Centre had its waiting room refurbished as a result of the generosity of UNIFOR Local 444.

The labour group held a fundraising event in 2016 where 3,000 cupcakes were sold through an initiative called, 'Cupcakes for Cupsake'!

The Breast Health Centre waiting room received new laminate flooring, repainting, hospital-grade seating and a flat screen television. The waiting area is available for women who are scheduled for a mammogram or mammatone as part of their annual screening.

"This is a project that Unifor Local 444 took to "heart" and something the membership embraced on behalf of women requiring breast health care," stated Frank Harshaw, Grievance Coordinator, Unifor Local 444.

The Windsor Regional Hospital Breast Health Centre provides expedited breast assessment service to the community. The program is affiliated with Cancer Care Ontario and meets stringent quality standards and is continually evaluated against national and provincial performance measurements. Residents of Windsor and Essex County are not only assured of timely biopsy and diagnosis of breast cancer but, if a suspicious finding is identified, rapid access to surgical consultation, surgery and, chemotherapy and/or radiation treatment is paramount.

Many thanks to Local 444 for this initiative!!

Safety Spotlight Presents...

Aamer

Meet Aamer, Aamer has been on the Joint Health and Safety Committee for 5 of the 8 years he has been employed at WRH and works in Renal Dialysis. He is a worker member of the Ouellette Campus JHSC, representing the CUPE Union. When asked if he could describe himself using one safety word – he says it would be “careful”.

When Aamer isn't helping to ensure a safe workplace, he explores things when walking and enjoying a cool dish of ice cream. Thanks Aamer for your time and dedication to the JHSC!
