Quality Based Procedures (QBP) Continuous Improvement

Each week QBP working groups review their respective QBP Roadmaps looking for areas of continuous improvement. One recent area for improvement was reducing Hip & Knee Replacement re-admissions due to infection. Post-operatively the surgical team has been trialing the use of silver iodine dressings as well as having patients use a chlorhexidine sponge pre-operatively. Currently, there is a group of students from Schulich School of Medicine looking at the impact of implementing these solutions.

Road to Recovery, Movement Matters – One Step at a Time

Tuesday December 3, the Mobility Team at Windsor Regional Hospital are very excited to share the distance travelled by our patients to date on their road to recovery.

Make some time to stop by and hear from one of our patient's family members describe the benefits of the program how movement improved his quality of life while in the hospital.

Exciting news for the next leg of the journey. Refreshments will be provided.
